Local Fire Fighters Win Laurels in Fierce But Victorious Battle

Fire which has been raging in San Gabriel Canyon, the West Fork and the region about Rincon Camp, appears to be definitely under control. The fire fighting force which had borne the brunt of the battle, back firing along the north slope of Pine Mountain, was relieved late Thursday night and brought out with laurels of victory hung all over them.

Marshal Udell, who had been in charge of the recruiting work in Sierra Madre, was notified by Supervisor Charlton to come to Azusa at midnight. He said as the caravan came out of San Gabriel Canyon as far as their autos could be heard, their voices rose above to the tune "It Ain't Goin' to burn no more."

Cigaret Match Case

A. Gunsalus, a baker employed in Los Angeles, has admitted causing the fire Sunday noon. He said he lit a cigarette, shook the match and threw it away. Looking around a few moments later he saw the match had started a brush fire which he could not control. Instead of turning in an alarm or seeking help he loaded his picnic party into his car and ran away.

Picnickers who saw Gunsalus depart secured his auto number, by which he was traced. When arrested he admitted the offense and signed a confession. He was arraigned on Thursday before a justice of the peace in Azusa and released on $1,000 bail pending final hearing.

Spreads Rapidly

The fire started at a point on the west side of San Gabriel Canyon ten miles above Azusa. It burned rapidly to the top of the ridge, and then westerly.

A short distance north of the point where the fire started the San Gabriel branches, and the West Fork runs west as far as Mount San Gabriel. The south wall of the West Fork is covered with a dense growth of brush and tall timber.

As the fire ate its way westerly after reaching the top of the ridge, it got into the growth in the West Fork, and burned down the slope to the bottom. Camp Rincon was thus beset with flames approaching from the west, the opposite direction from the place where the fire started. It was thought the camp was doomed, but the buildings were saved by back firing when all the timber around was seen to be doomed.

West Fork Saved

For a time it appeared nothing could stop the fire from denuding the north slopes of Monrovia Peak, Mt. Wilson and Mt. San Gabriel. However, a fire line was cut through the brush and trees from the bottom of the West Fork to the top of Pine Mountain, east of Monrovia Peak. Here the crucial battle was staged and victory was won.

Back firing is a treacherous weapon, to be used only as a last resort. But in this case it was successful. With men strung along the whole line, kerosene was sprinkled as "bait" for the flames in the direction the fire was supposed to take. On the other side the men were equipped with chemical extinguishers and tools to prevent spreading the wrong way. The tremendous pillars of smoke which were occasionally seen came from these back fires and often caused rumors among the watching public that "it has gotten away from them again."

Sierra Madre's Fighters

Marshal Udell received the first call for help at 3 a. m. Monday. Within an hour 34 picked men were on the way. By 7:30 thirty more followed. Most of these men worked from 24 to 36 hours before being relieved. Many of them returned with later crews. Altogether Marshal Udell estimates 94 different men from Sierra Madre went to the battle.

Fame of the Sierra Madre fire fighters has spread far and wide. Every man gave a good account of himself. Practically all the white men acted at one time or another as crew leaders for from 10 to 30 men. For endurance, "fire fighting sense" and general effectiveness they were said to be without peers.

Water Superintendent Tom Henderson won the chief laurels of the last big fight. By his dauntless courage, his good humored leadership and intrepid example he was given credit by Forest Supervisor Charlton (Continued on Page Eight)

ELBOW BROKEN BY FALL FROM STEP LADDER

Fred Griebenow, president of the Sierra Madre Hardware Co., suffered a distressing injury last Friday when a fall from a step ladder left him with a broken arm. He was working with the transom over the front door of the store, standing on the step ladder. Either the ladder giving way or loss of balance threw him to the floor which he struck apparently with his weight upon the left elbow. Examination showed the small bones of the elbow splintered and the injury continues to be very painful. It is hoped that recovery will not leave him with a stiff arm.

STEWART TO CONTINUE HIS COLLEGE WORK

E. E. Stewart, who has been assistant to City Engineer Gierlich the past year, leaves this week for Washington State College at Pullman, Wash., where he will complete his engineering course, which was interrupted by the war. Mrs. Stewart will also accompany him and enroll for college work. Mr. Stewart has devoted practically all his time to Sierra Madre municipal work and his many friends here will wish him pleasure and success in his future work.

"LITTLE RED" ON PROGRAM SUNDAY NIGHT

The picture at the Wistaria Theatre Sunday evening is "Little Red Decides." This is a fine story of human interest. It reveals the fact that human nature at bottom is kind and compassionate. The story is built around a deserted child and how that child found a home and care.

These meetings are receiving such a splendid response from the community that all those who desire special seats are asked to come early. The meetings, which begin promptly at 7:30 p. m., will be in charge of George T. Simons of Los Angeles for the two Sundays that Dr. Tate is away on vacation.

NORRIS TWIN GIRLS BORN ON SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. George Norris are the proud parents of twin girls, born Saturday, August 30, weight five and one-half and six pounds. They have been named Maurine Leila and Georgyne Alice. Babies and mother are reported to be getting along nicely.

FOOD SALE OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Good home cooked food without the bother of heating up the kitchen will be welcomed by many housewives Saturday when the ladies of the Woman's club will hold a cooked food sale, beginning at 10 a. m. The sale will be held at Welsher's store.

Dean William Carson Shaw and Mrs. Shaw returned home last Friday after an absence of several weeks, which they spent visiting in the north. The dean is somewhat improved in health and still making progress back to par.

WEST'S GREATEST STEAM PLANT NEARING COMPLETION

100,000 HORSEPOWER PLANT of Southern California Edison Company now being built adjacent to its original Long Beach plant will be ready for service about December 1st, making total capacity of 200,000 horsepower at this site and representing an investment of 20 million dollars.

The Southern California Edison company was host to the editors and city officials of Southern California at the new steam plant which is under construction at Long Beach, last Friday. Mr. Eaton of the Monrovia office was the guide for a party composed of George B. Morgridge, editor of the Sierra Madre News; Louis Berg, secretary of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, and DeWitt T. Jones, editor of the Temple Times.

It is evident that the Edison company understands the men who compose the fourth estate, for they not only provided an intellectual feast in the way of an educational tour through the largest steam generating plant in the world, which will produce 200,000 kilowatts of electricity, but they also provided a more nourishing repast of beans, tomatoes, corn on the cob and apple pie, etc.

Like all the trips provided by the Edison company for the editors, this one was full of interesting and enjoyable features. A large quantity of statistics was passed along with the second helping of pudding, which is hereby passed on to the readers without the pudding.

New Firm to Sell Essex And Hudson

W. L. Schutze of Sierra Madre and Ed Obrikat under the business name of Sierra Madre Sales, have secured the agency in this territory for Hudson and Essex cars. They have just taken possession of handsome quarters at 217-219 South Myrtle avenue, Monrovia, for their main agency.

Service for Hudson and Essex owners and a branch display room will be maintained at the Central Garage in Sierra Madre. Because of his residence here on Sycamore Place, and the local service arrangements Mr. Schutze expects to be able to take care of these popular lines in Sierra Madre with unusual efficiency.

Mr. Schutze has been with the Hudson people for a long time working in Los Angeles, and Mr. Obrikat has been active in finance and the automobile business.

Their new quarters have been given a thorough overhauling from sales room to garage, the salesroom being redecorated in cream and blue and presents a highly attractive appearance.

MITCHELL TO GATHER WITH LEGAL LIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell and son, Bob, will go to Avalon, Catalina Island, Sunday to spend a week. While there Mr. Mitchell will attend the session of the California Bar-association convention.

School Days Drawing Near For Children

Sierra Madre schools will open on Monday, September 15. Pasadena high school will open on the same date.

Alterations and improvements to the Sierra aMdre school buildings are practically complete and the buildings ready for work.

Owing to the failure of some of the accepted teachers to sign contracts, there has been a delay in the filling of the staff. However, Principal Elizabeth Steinberger promises a full list of the school faculty for publication next week.

The rate new families are moving into town and the demand for houses for fall occupancy seem to indicate an increased school enrollment this fall.

NEW SPIRELLA CORSET STYLES

Miss Eleanor Bayne of 110 East Mira Monte is representing the Spirella Corset company in this district. She has just received their catalog of late models, and is introducing them to Sierra Madre women. Miss Bayne said that the combination brassiere and corset has been very favorably accepted, and that the new girdles are unusually popular. She has been handling Spirella corsets for about two years, and is delighted to note attractive alterations in several styles. Women desiring demonstrations will be able to reach Miss Bayne by telephone.

Alterations To Be Made At Library

Miss L. M. Moore has returned to her duties as librarian at the public library, after a vacation spent in San Francisco. During her absence Mrs. H. A. N. Addis was acting librarian.

Important changes in the library are contemplated by the library trustees. Bids for the work of alterations to the building were called for at the monthly meeting of the board Wednesday evening.

The changes proposed will give a considerable increase in floor space at minimum cost. The plans, prepared by Architect R. M. Finlayson, provide for enclosing within the library proper the space now devoted to the main entrance alcove. This space is now useless except for shelter in time of storm, which will be provided by an overhanging canopy.

The exterior wall over the central portion of the building will be moved to the outer edge of the alcove floor. The marble memorial tablet to Robert E. Ross will be placed on the north wall beneath one of the high windows where it can be more readily seen than at present.

By this change the library will not only gain several hundred square feet of floor space but the present space can be arranged to much better advantage.

Mrs. Agnes Leighton and Miss Fannie H. Hunt drove to Laguna Beach for the week end and labor day outing, returning home on Tuesday.

Sierra Madre Program for Defense Day

Defense Test Day in Sierra Madre will be observed with a program in the park at two o'clock. The local part in the government program has been arranged by a committee appointed by the city trustees and consisting of Col. Herman Hall, Dr. C. H. Barker and W. S. Hull.

At the park exercises the president of the city council, J. D. Sparks, will preside. Dean William Carson Shaw will give the invocation and Mrs. Milton Steinberger will have charge of music. The speaker of the day will be Col. Hall, who will speak on "The purpose of the National Defense Act and national Test Day." As a former brigadier general of the national army, Col. Hall will be able to speak from personal knowledge what the Defense Law is and how it is supposed to function.

The Defense Day Committee has issued the following suggestions as to observance of the day:

Defense Day

In compliance with the wishes of the government the following program has been arranged for the observance of "Defense Test Day."

The President of the City Council, Mr. Sparks, will be the presiding officer. Mrs. Milton Steinberger will have charge of the music. The speaker of the day will be Col. Herman Hall (formerly brigadier general National Army) who will speak on "The Purpose of the National Defense Act and National Test Day."

Dean William Carson Shaw will give the invocation.

The meeting will be held at City Park, corner Central and Hermosa, on Sept. 12, 1924, at 2 p. m.

All places of business have been asked to close from 1:30 to 3 p. m. on that day in order that all citizens may have the opportunity to attend.

The public are invited to attend and a special invitation is extended to veterans of all wars and all patriotic societies.

Citizens can help to make Defense Day a success in two ways.

First, by attending this meeting and listening to the program.

Second, those who are physically fit and between the ages of 18 and 45 and who are willing to become reservists for one day are requested to report to the commanding officer in the Pasadena armory at 8 a. m. on Sept. 12th, 1924. If accepted they will be enrolled as members of some existing reserve company for the day. This enrollment entails no future military obligation and is practice for that day only.

The purpose is to give the reserve corps officers and noncommissioned officers the practice in making out enlistment papers, attending to medical examinations and performing such other work as is necessary to change a skeleton company into a working organization.

Those who enroll for this day will be given arm insignia to wear during the day and will take part in whatever program is arranged for the reserve units.

If you have been in the service and know about the troubles incident to organizing a new company, go help the reserve officer with his task. If you have never been in service, go and find out what the first steps are in the induction of new men into the service of the United States.

CHAFFEE STORE FORCE CHANGES

Austin Green, who has been one of the popular clerks at the Chaffee store the past year, has received a well deserved promotion which places him in charge of a store at Redlands. He left this week for the new field.

Manager and Mrs. Olsen of Chaffee's store, accompanied by Mr. Green, went to Riverside Wednesday evening to attend a district meeting of employees of the Chaffee stores.

Arcadia May Be Center for Psychic Work

Arcadia may be destined to become the center of "psychic research" in Southern California, if plans mature as set forth in application of the Southern California Science and Research association to the State Corporation Commission for permission to issue stock for the purpose of erecting a psychic research school in that city.

The principal reason set forth is that the various psychic organizations in Southern California comprise 50,000 members, and the association seeks authority to issue stock in the amount of $300,000, part of which will be used to purchase six acres of land in Arcadia, on which an option is now held.

Daniels Home

The old homestead of Mrs. Ren-saler Daniels, it is said, is the propa beautiful six-acre estate, situated one-quarter of a mile north of Foothill boulevard on a prominent elevation along the east side of Santa Anita wash and overlooking the valley. The old Daniels residence stands there among giant, spreading oaks, 54 in number. The reported consideration is $45,000.

It is proposed in the application to establish a school for "scientific research along psychic lines" at Arcadia and to erect and maintain a hotel, club house and camp grounds in the district.

Long Tunnel
Job Finished
At Newhall

What is known as the Newhall tunnel of the Southern Pacific railroad, four miles to the northwest of San Fernando, and what is said to be a great tunnel and a great engineering task, is completed after a long duration of time.

The work has been that of enlarging and relining the tunnel, and appropos of the task the Newhall Signal says:

This great tunnel was cut through the Santa Susana range just west of the famous Fremont pass. Until this tunnel was cut some 45 years ago, the only communication between Santa Clara valley and Los Angeles was through the famous Fremont pass, a narrow cut about 50 feet deep and reached by a steep, rough mountain road. The rail tunnel at its deepest place is about a thousand feet below the surface. It is one mile and a quarter in length and until the last six years was lined with timber. Keeping this lining in repair, together with trouble resulting from heaving, settling and bulging of the rock, made it necessary to keep a large force of men continuously at work to enable trains to go through. Six or seven years ago 500 feet of concrete lining was put in at the most troublesome point, and this was followed by the putting on of a permanent concreting force of about 100 men. This force has been steadily at work for several years.

Not only was the tunnel lined with concrete, but it was enlarged, being made five feet higher and two or three feet wider. It is now 16 feet wide and 21 feet high, being the size required under the state law.

The work of enlarging and concreting the tunnel had to be done without any interruption of train service, which made it a very slow job. All work had to be suspended, the tools moved out of the way and all lights extinguished when the train came. First came the enlarging gang and then the forms were built into place, after which the concrete was "shot" into place through pipes connected with the big mixer at the mouth of the tunnel and driven by compressed air. The "shot" consisting of the proper proportions of gravel, cement and water, was placed in the mixer and the air turned on. In almost less time than it takes to tell it, the machine would drive into place several feet of complete lining, it being carried nearly half a mile part of the time. During the last few months the work progressed at the rate of about 15 feet a day.

Mrs. Ida Callahan state president of the Oregon Federation of Woman's clubs, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Huston, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stovall last week. The visitors are old friends of the Stovalls and live at Cornwallis, Oregon. Mrs. Calahan has been connected with the English department of O. A. C. for a number of years.

County Leads in Number of Cars Listed

Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles, has forwarded figures from Sacramento to the office of the Times showing that the total registration of motor vehicles and trailers in Los Angeles county for the first six months of 1924, amounted to 494,311.

Registrations for this county as given by Marsh are as follows: Automobiles, 428,341; solid trucks, 14,886; pneumatic trucks, 43,767; motor cycles, 3551; trailers, 3786. The money this county receives for highway purposes from motor vehicle receipts for the six months period will be based on these figures.

Big Increase Shown

These figures thus made public by Marsh represent a substantial increase for this county over the entire registration of 1923 and are indicative of the rapid development of this section of California.

Marsh's report shows a gain of 113,794 for the whole state over 1923, the total, inclusive of trailers, being 1,120,785. As the report was prepared as of August 1st, there have been heavy increases since then but California still farther in the lead.

Counties leading in registration follow in their regular order: Los Angeles, first; San Francisco, second; Alameda, third; Fresno, fourth; San Diego, fifth; Orange, sixth; Santa Clara, seventh; Sacramento, eighth; San Bernardino, ninth; San Joaquin, tenth.

Your Poultry

By Howard J. Curtis

Daily I go into poultry plants where the hard working proprietor is endeavoring to solve the problem of crowding hens into a hen house that already has more than its limit. Do you know that a bird requires seven times as much room as an animal? Its breathing system is actually all over its body and consists of nine air sacs and a network of tubes radiating from these air sacs through the bones. This breathing system has two reasons; one is to help her fly and the other is to help keep her blood pure.

If a hen is kept in a dusty house during the day and made to roost over this dusty filth at night with no ventilation, or what is worse, a draught, she is fairly started on her way to "enjoy ill health." But if she is sleeping in a house with a good ventilation this dust she breathes in the day time will be carried on through her breathing system by pure fresh air.

At night the sleeping hen perspires gently and if she is roosting so that a draught is blowing over her dampened feathers, she is bound to take cold, which leads to chicken pox and roup.

Be especially careful of floor draught at night, that is draughts that blow under the dropping boards. This is particularly a good time to guard against these draughts because the days are warm and the nights and early mornings are quite cool and if your hens are jumping from the roosts, where they have become warm through snuggling together, to the floor with the wind blowing, they will take cold.

The most suitable exposure for poultry houses should give the warm early morning sun, protection from the afternoon heat and shelter from cold winds and rain. It should not have draughts across the floor at night and with an air shaft that carries the poisonous fumes from under the dropping boards up along the back wall and out through the highest point of the house. This system of moving the air should be in both closed and open front houses.

I could go on writing paragraph after paragraph about the troubles that will come into the chicken yard through improper ventilation. However, I am sure that if every poultry man will install a good ventilating system in his house he will not have to dig very many holes to bury the dead in during the next year.

After writing about all of the terrible things that are going to happen to your hens I am reminded of the following story:

Mrs. Geoffrey Hamilton, who lives on Sunset avenue, has started something new. Every morning she drives her chickens and turkeys into

OPPOSED TO PISTOLS AND CLAWING FACES

The Los Angeles Evening Herald of a recent issue, under the caption of "Glenn Keeps Cool," published the following:

"R. H. Glenn edits the Sun at San Fernando and does an admirable job. When he heard about the tussle at Burbank over annexation to Los Angeles, he wrote:

"If annexation is going to make people tote pistols, claw each other's faces and stack furniture, The Sun is now and forever, amen, against it. Burbank editors may enjoy it, but not us; nuh-uh, no-riree, bob!"

The Herald quotes us correctly. We thirst not for community upheavals, for fistic encounters, for wicked firearms and for blood and thunder, much preferring peace and harmony, brotherly love and spreading the gospel of good cheer.

This thing of "raising the divvul" over annexation or anything else is not going to do people a blamed bit of good but rather an immense amount of harm. Selah!—San Fernando Press.

a big yard, cranks up her Star car, and drives round and round the field, frightening them something terrible. When I asked her what her idea was she replied.

"Why, I have lost a lot of valuable turkeys and hens this summer, being killed by automobiles upon the highway, and I am training them to be auto shy."

CITRUS SHORT COURSE IS SET FOR OCTOBER

The preliminary outline of the Citrus Extension School to be conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service, cooperating with the Division of Subtropical Horticulture of the State College of Agriculture, has been announced by Farm Advisor Ryerson. The school is planned for the week of October 27 and will be held in the Whittier High school. The Whittier Chamber of Commerce is actively cooperating in the carrying out of the plans.

An enrollment fee of $1 will be charged for all or part of the school. Enrollment may be made at the office of the Farm Advisor, 202 North Broadway, or at the Whittier Chamber of Commerce.

CURB SIGNALING

Motorists who dash out suddenly from a parking space without looking or signaling are among the worst menaces to ordinary traffic, in the opinion of engineers who have studied this situation from a national angle.

The danger of accidents is increased where oblique parking is the rule. As various styles of parking prevail throughout this section, the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California urges that every precaution be taken, as indicated in the state law. This declares that the motorist not only must signal adequately, but be certain that other vehicles are not near enough to precipitate a crash.

Right Here at Home! WISTARIA THEATRE Sierra Madre

Program for Wistaria Theatre, Beginning Sept. 6th

SATURDAY AND MONDAY—

MEN IN THE RAW

JACK HOXIE, MARGARET CLAYTON and SID JORDAN. Another good Western. Cowboys in camp and on the range; some hard riding, fine lassoing, a true-blue girl and the river where men and cattle disappear. But it led them to the hiding place of the cattle rustlers and cemented their life-long friendship. Windy Watkins could tell the biggest yarn.

BABY PEGGY in JACK AND THE BEANSTALK.
Eighth Chapter of THE SANTA FE TRAIL.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY—

PHANTOM JUSTICE

ROD LA ROCQUE and ESTELLE TAYLOR, leading players in "The Ten Commandments." Should an attorney defend a person he knows to be guilty? Kinsley was doing this until he had a dream while taking gas in the dentist's chair. It changed his business methods.

Eighth Episode of THE TELEPHONE GIRL.

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY—

AFFINITIES

By Mary Roberts Rinehart. Leading players COLLEEN MOORE and JOHN BOWERS. Most of us have read this screamingly funny farce and will enjoy seeing it in pictures. Affinities usually get laughed at, and this bunch was no exception.

THE BEGGAR MAID, a short film made from the famous painting of that name. Something entirely different, and a new idea in films. By one of our loveliest stars, Mary Astor. Delightful and artistic and will please all who love beauty.

SATURDAY AND MONDAY—

THE FIGHTING AMERICAN

SIERRA MADRE NEWS

Published by THE SIERRA MADRE PRESS, Incorporated

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Sierra Madre, Calif.,
under the act of March 3, 1879

Pasadena's Eastward March

Formation of a new municipality to the southwest of Sierra Madre and along the east city limits of Pasadena seems unlikely. Petitions for an incorporation election were presented to the board of supervisors. The name of the new city was to be "San Pasqual." The supervisors have set October 1 as the date for formal hearing on the question.

Opposition to the new city developed as soon as the plan was proposed in definite form. The objection was not to the principal purpose of the city promoters, but to the method.

The incorporation plan developed when all the dairies in that section were put out of business by the hoof and mouth disease. It was thought that while there were no dairies operating would be a good time to incorporate and form a no-dairy zone. Owing to the rapid eastward growth of Pasadena it was felt the district ought to develop into a good residence district instead.

Now come the objectors to incorporation and say if they are to have municipal government they want to be a part of Pasadena. They appear to have sufficient support to stop the new city plan. If they succeed in blocking the present enterprise, those favoring a union with Pasadena will probably take the opportunity to push the issue of annexation. Extension of the Pasadena city limits to the west line of the Baldwin ranch property seems the likely result.

As long as the Baldwin and Hastings ranches are held intact, there seems no possibility of Pasadena and Sierra Madre becoming contiguous and raising the issue of annexation. The owners of both ranches would naturally be averse to having their large acreage under municipal control and taxation. If the lower portion of the Hastings ranch should be sold for subdivision, the issue might become a very lively one.

The present Pasadena city commissioners are pursuing a far-sighted policy of city development. Their civic center and street opening projects are planned with real vision. There is much to recommend a plan of union for all the foothill territory from the Arroyo Seco to the hills west of Monrovia. There are common problems of water, sewage disposal and highways that can best be solved together. The name Pasadena is in itself a tremendous asset—more widely known if not quite so fine a name as Sierra Madre. Sierra Madre as a part of Pasadena might come to have an importance comparable to that of Hollywood as a part of Los Angeles.

Sierra Madre and South Santa Anita are now a part of Pasadena high school district. South Pasadena and Alhambra now join with Pasadena in a sewage disposal enterprise. It is easily within the range of possibility that all this territory embracing the west end of the San Gabriel valley may find some sort of municipal union to advantage in the working out of problems common to all.

Put these thoughts down to the dreams of Dog Days if you like. Sooner or later the question will come up for serious consideration and it might as well be given some thought in the meantime.

Who Does Your "Thinks"?

A story is told of an elementary school girl where the children were required to define the difference between an educated and an uneducated man. A little Polish girl of ten explained that an educated man was a man "who does his thinks for himself," while an uneducated man gets someone to do them for him!

There are two classes of people in the world, those who think for themselves and those who let other people do their thinking for them.

The number of people in the first class are pitifully few. Most of us are quite content to repeat parrotwise what others say, sentiments from our habitual newspaper, our favorite preacher, or affirmative friend. We are satisfied to leave our reason in the care of our party, our church or the conventional opinions of our social set.

Most of us suffer from that distressing self-depreciation of the old parishioner with whom the curate was walking home after the service and being asked if he understood the sermon, replied: "Lud, sir, who am I to so presume?"

It is in the creed! It is in the party platform! The priest said it last Sunday! Everybody says so! It is not good form!

And so the old idea is forever established and the new idea is anathema even before it is born.

But the hope of the world is forever in the brain of the man who "does his thinks for himself."

INSURANCE IS GOOD BUSINESS

You insure your car, your home, your business and your personal belongings against fire and perhaps in several other ways, don't you?

You would quickly grasp a chance to insure them for a guaranteed enhancement of value, if you could, wouldn't you?

Has it ever occurred that you can insure your property in this section in just such a way?

The Chamber of Commerce offers you this chance.

A membership in the Chamber of Commerce is an investment with a guaranteed dividend—an insurance for increased population and greater property values.

Districts do not of their own accord, even in Southern California, attract growth and prosperity. There must be some great stimulus behind every forward looking movement. Such is our Chamber of Commerce.

Insurance is a good business, Mr. Property Owner, and an insurance that guarantees enhancement of values is better business. The Chamber of Commerce will be just what you make it.

Make it your organization, and send in your membership application today.

Dr. H. C. Forsyth, who has built up a fine optical practice in Sierra Madre, has removed his office headquarters from Tucker's Jewelry store to 71 North Baldwin. He will continue to visit Sierra Madre three times weekly. His Los Angeles office is in the Auditorium building.

FOLKS who think realize how much more comfortable it is to have the clean, stylish clothes we will furnish you and a comfortable balance in the bank than it is to needlessly spend.

Your financial safety depends upon your thoughtfulness. Give a thought to this shop.

Government Merely Joke To Americans

The greatest sin of the American people is the half humorous indifference they assume toward government, Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt told the people in her address at the South Santa Anita church Sunday night. Mrs. Willebrandt, who was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Walker of Temple, is assistant attorney general of the United States and is in the west on a tour of inspection.

The average citizen, according to Mrs. Willebrandt, sneers or smiles at government, according to his disposition and refuses to take the problems of the country seriously.

"The great need today," she said, "is a sense of righteous indignation with poor government. In many parts of the country the people take so little interest in government that their representatives feel no responsibility whatever to the people who elected them."

Mrs. Willebrandt's address was on the subject of "The citizen's responsibility in generating political energy." She pointed out a number of duties which are incumbent upon every citizen of the United States. The first, she said, was to go to the polls on election day and vote. While it is very important that every citizen register and vote, it is also highly desirable that he take a little time before election day and investigate the conduct of the candidates for which he expects to vote and to keep in touch with their careers in the offices to which he helps to elect them.

The cause of corruption in office can be traced directly to the citizens who fail to demand a strict accounting for every action on the part of the office holders, she said. In many cases men have held office so long that they have come to feel that it is theirs by divine right and that they are not accountable to anyone for their actions. The people should be more particular about choosing their congressmen than any other officers, according to Mrs. Willebrandt, for they are the direct representatives of the people. Care should also be exercised in picking the various county and state officers, who have in charge the prosecution of the local laws.

In answer to a question, Mrs. Willebrandt said that the prohibition law was being much better enforced than formerly; that the middle west was in very good condition; that on the east coast it is still very badly enforced, and that it could be much better on the west coast, but on the whole it is much better than at any previous time since the prohibition amendment went into effect.

NOTICE OF AWARD OF CONTRACT

Pursuant to Statutes and to the Resolution of Award No. 206 of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre, adopted August 28, 1924, directing this notice, notice is hereby given that said Board of Trustees in open session on the 21st day of August, 1924, publicly opened, examined and declared all sealed proposals or bids offered for the following work, to-wit:

Duty is one of those things that can be discerned much more clearly in another man's lot than in our own. There is a mental farsightedness that enables us to discover it knocking at our neighbor's door even when it has paused at our own unseen.

REAL TRACTOR WORK STUDIED IN THE SOUTH

In an effort to obtain first hand information as to the tractor situation in Southern California, and to obtain the actual operating costs and relative efficiency of tractors as used under Southern California conditions, Prof. L. J. Fletcher, head of the Agricultural Engineering Division of the State College of Agriculture, and C. D. Kinsman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are visiting Los Angeles and adjacent counties this week. They contemplate interviewing ranchers who are using tractors, larger ranchers where both tractors and horses and mules are used, and also farmers who are using only horses and mules for power purposes, in order to get accurate cost accounts and efficiency studies.

The Agricultural Extension Service and Los Angeles County Farm Bureau are cooperating in the carrying out of these studies in order that they may be of maximum benefit to Los Angeles County farmers.

SAFETY LESSONS SAVE LIVES

Comparison of the child fatalities in Los Angeles city for the first six months of 1923 with a similar period of 1924 shows a marked decrease, regardless of the fact that automobiles and population have increased greatly in number.

The fatalities between the ages of five and 16 years were 27 during the first half of 1923, and in 1924 this decreased to 23, or approximately 15 per cent less.

The explanation given for this is that the safety instruction introduced in the public schools of Los Angeles by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California is highly effective and is resulting in lessening the toll of young lives through preventable accidents.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Public notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the City Clerk of the City of Sierra Madre, California, until 7:30 P. M., Thursday, Sept. 11th, 1924, for the construction of a bungalow at the Pumping Plant and for furnishing all labor and materials therefor according to plans and specifications adopted by the Board of Trustees of said City, and on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City, which said plans and specifications are hereby referred to and made a part of this notice.

Said bids must be made on forms which will be furnished by the said City Clerk upon application.

A certified or cashier's check on some bank in the County of Los Angeles, payable to the order of the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre, for a sum equal to five (5) per cent of the amount of the bid must accompany each bid as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract, if awarded to him, in conformity with his bid.

The successful bidder will be required to give bonds in the amount equal to twenty-five per cent of the contract price for the faithful performance of his contract, and in the amount equal to fifty per cent of the contract price as a statutory bond for the payment of labor and materials.

The Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any and all bids hereunder.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre, California.

L. DIETZ, City Clerk of the City of Sierra Madre. Sierra Madre, Cal., August 21st, 1924. (48-49c)

EACH DAY OUR DAILY MURDER

San Bernardino Sun: Those Los Angeles city editors who are constant in their petitions to "give us each day our daily murder," are certainly furnishing evidence of the effectiveness of such prayers. The neighboring metropolis now regaled with a nasty as well as gory tragedy, with so many angles to it, plus wealthy participants and the sporting tangle, that it can be retold to the extent of from eight to 20 columns every day for a week, and then revamped still further, if Fate should not send them another within that period. Although there will not be another soon with so many elements that can be used to make modern jour-

Because a former champion prize-fighter killed the woman he had been living with and whom he hoped to make his ninth wife, for financial reasons only, is that any reason why the public must be compelled to go over and over the gruesome tale, with the seamstress details always to the fore?

East or West As You Like At Wistaria

Jack Hoxie, whose clean Western films have won him a strong following among film fans, will be the feature offering on the Wistaria Theatre program Saturday and Monday nights. In this story, as Windbag Watkins, noted prevaricator, he tells the boys of the Bar Nothing Ranch a series of thrilling adventures, and a stranger becomes interested. So Windbag proceeds to tell him of how he and Phil Hollis, in Alaska, had trouble with a pair who had known Phil in Montana. Phil was killed, Windbag tells the stranger, and he was accused. He escapes to assume charge of the ranch of Eunice Hollis, where rustlers are plotting, but is forced to leave when the murder accusation bobs up.

Windbag completes his story; then the stranger surprises them all by informing them Watkins has told the truth for once, and that he, a federal marshal, has come to arrest the story teller. A chase ensues. The men grapple in mid-stream, are carried through a subterranean passage, where they locate the hiding place of Bill Spray and his cattle rustlers. The marshal finds in Spray the real murderer, when Watkins makes him confess. Windbag, his innocence and veracity established, returns to Eunice.

Rod LaRoque and Estelle Taylor, stars of "The Ten Commandments," come on Tuesday and Wednesday in "Phantom Justice." It is said to have one of the most daring, novel and original climaxes seen on the screen. It also throws a lot of light on the reasons why crooks so seldom pay the penalty of their acts.

An uproariously funny farce follows on Thursday and Friday. "Affinities," by Mary Roberts Rinehart and interpreted by Colleen Moore and John Bowers is the attraction. It is bound to make a tremendous hit.

TREE DOCTORS' LICENSE WILL BE REQUIRED

Between 50 and 60 tree doctors and horticultural inspectors attended the special demonstration conducted for them by the Agricultural Extension Service at Azusa Foothill ranch, at Azusa, last Thursday. Because of the increasing demand for more detailed information of the diagnosis and control of these citrus diseases and because of the increased number of operators treating these diseases commercially, special emphasis has been placed on the best-known methods of handling this group of diseases.

At the request of citrus growers, the horticultural commissioners of Southern California counties have undertaken the regulation and licensing of tree doctors in order to protect the legitimate operator as well as the grower.

Diagnosis and control of the principal diseases were discussed by Farm Advisor Ryerson and Assistant Farm Advisor Rounds and methods demonstrated. Different types of disinfectants were discussed and were exhibited.

Mrs. Margaret Bullock, before returning to her home in Los Angeles, entertained some of her Sierra Madre friends at the home of Mrs. S. E. Davis of East Grand View, Thursday evening, Aug. 28. The guests were Misses Margaretta Bains, Camilla Emery, Clarice Brown, Viola Fennel, Nancy Davis and Mary Brain; Messrs. Boyssie Johnstone, Ted Halsey, Perley Cox, Hans Seifert, Enos Emery, Herbert Seifert and Kenzie Robertson. The young people spent the evening at Mah Jongg, cards and dancing.

Robert Ingraham drove to San Francisco last Saturday with Norman Olsen, returning Monday by train.

The new store is located at 613 South Myrtle avenue and will handle dry goods, ladies' ready to wear, men's furnishings, shoes and notions. J. O. Peterson, formerly manager of the store at Needles, is manager and part owner. L. Cogswell, formerly associated with the Arthur Asher stores, is assistant manager.

WASH RACK AT GARAGE GIVES CAR HOT BATH

This week's improvement at the Sierra Madre Garage (seldom a week when there is not something new there to interest motorists) is a hot water system for the washing of cars. This is a new variation from the dry steam system, according to Milton Steinberger, proprietor. Steam pressure generated in a small boiler is connected with a tank of hot water and soap emulsion. By means of a hose and fine nozzle this hot emulsion is directed easily to any part of a car on the wash rack, cleaning off engine grease and the oil-caked dirt which accumulates on the chassis. The hot water is said not to injure the finest enamel finish and to provide the best and safest method yet devised for cleansing of cars.

Dr. William A. Tate is enjoying his annual vacation from his duties as pastor of the Congregational church. He leaves this week with his family for Seal Beach where they will enjoy an outing. After their return he expects to take a short trip north and visit Berkeley and San Francisco a few days.

Perhaps It Was Well That Lisi Could Swim

An Italian officer who won distinction in the war was in his boyhood the hero of an amusing incident. His chief fault then was that he would interrupt any one if he had anything he wanted to say himself. Our mother, writes Miss Lisi Cipriani in "A Tuscan Childhood," repeatedly said to him: "Ritchie, you must never interrupt me when I am talking. Wait till I have finished and then say, 'At your convenience, mamma, I have something to tell you.' Take time; learn to be polite!"

One day toward the end of the season my mother had taken Ritchie and me to the baths at Leghorn. The baths are built in piers and rotundas into the sea, and bridges connect the piers. Before the autumn storms begin the boards are taken away, so that only two long wooden beams and the railings remain.

I had crossed one of the bridges at a considerable distance from where my mother and some friends were sitting in a group and was watching a man who was fishing. Just as I left him and was about to cross the bridge on the beam he called to me that he had hooked a fish. I waited till the fish was safely landed and then started to cross. But so interested was I that I forgot that the boards had been taken away and, walking on as usual, fell into the sea.

Ritchie, who had been standing by me, rapidly crossed the bridge and ran to my mother. Taking off his cap, he stood politely beside her for some time, waiting till she had finished a rather long story that she was just telling. Then he said:

"Mamma, at your convenience, I have something to tell you."

"What is it?" inquired my mother approvingly.

"Mamma, at your convenience, Lisi has fallen into the water."

"What?" cried my mother, jumping up. "Has any one pulled her out?"

"I don't know," Ritchie replied calmly and politely, "but I did not interrupt your story—and she can swim!"—Youth's Companion.

Platinum Substitute

Platinum is a most valuable metal not only to the jeweler but to the chemist, because it is so resistant to corrosion. But it is so costly that efforts are all the time being made to find a substitute. Among the latest of these are alloys of chromium, and the pure metallic chromium electroplated on iron. The alloys may be used in place of platinum for negative poles in electro-analytic work, while the chromium-plated electrodes are even more resistant. These discoveries tend to diminish the great demand for platinum by chemists, chromium being not only cheaper, but very much harder than platinum and therefore not so likely to be hurt by mechanical treatment.

COLLEEN MOORE IN DUAL ROLE

Perhaps you do not believe in dual personality, but you do appreciate a good laugh. The laughs are awaiting you next week at the Colonial Theatre, Monrovia, where Colleen Moore, appearing in "Flirting with Love," pretends to be "two persons in one." There is no comedienne on the screen that can get more laughs out of the situation than Colleen, whose work in "The Perfect Flapper" and "Flaming Youth" is even excelled in this highly entertaining First National picture. The picture, however, isn't wholly comedy. There is more than a leaven of drama in it, the admixture making an ideal vehicle for Miss Moore and Conway Tearle, who share the co-featuring honors.

for saving a critical situation Thursday night when the back firing threatened to break over the line. Gilbert Keys was invaluable because of his ability to speak Spanish and handle the many Mexicans employed, as well as his prowess as a fighter. He and George Bayard were kept in the field practically the whole period, the latter because of his ability as a packer and his familiarity with the mountains.

The Langworthy brothers, Kenneth and Fred, also made a strong bid for honors in endurance and leadership. Others who made a second trip and gave a good account of themselves were Ed Gregg, J. Cooper, Boyssie Johnstone, John Forman and several Mexicans. Randolph Wood, local director of the Angeles Forest Protective association, was one of the first to respond to the call and aided in the fight as well as in organizing the crews.

George Campbell of the Sierra Madre Garage gave one of the numerous funny touches to the grim battle when he reported as a crew leader to check out after a strenuous shift.

"Well, how did you get along?" the ranger asked.

"Oh, fine! We saved your mountain—but the brush is all gone," said George.

General charge of the fire fighting was in the hands of Supervisor Charlton. General Greeley of the Forest Service came south and went to the front to stay to see the finish. County Forester Flintham, District Ranger Lew Anderson of Pasadena, Ranger Davis of the Big Santa Anita and every available man in the service were in the field continuously, as well as the company of troops who have been in charge of the canyon through the summer, put in continuous service.

Alfred Belohlavek suffered severe burns to one foot, and several other Sierra Madre boys sustained minor injuries.
